XXX EDITION MACAEL A

30 ANNIVERSARY MACAEL AWARDS :

Three decades getting to important personalities from the promotion-building, communication, society, sports, politics and business.

The Macael Awards celebrate their anniversary. The event, which has become a benchmark within the region business landscape and the most important promotion act of natural stone industry in Spain, celebrates its 30 years on Friday 18 November.

The event, "which has established itself as one of the most important events in natural stone sector at national and international level", says of President of AEMA, Antonio Sanchez Tapia, has, once again, on its XXX edition, prestigious awarded.

One more year, we congratulate ourselves, due to we've received a huge participation in several candidatures, which, given its international character, strengthens our position in the necessity of internationalization of our companies", indicate Sanchez.

"With the celebration of this communication and international promotion event, in which we've been working to receive the respective representatives of the executed projects, we want to express our satisfaction about the value that marbles companies give to our economy, allowing to keep the social welfare of the "Marble's Region", he added.
